

JAPANESE IN PITCHED FIGHT

Russians Are Badly Routed in a Desperate Fight Lasting for 47 Hours in Duration.

THE MIKADO'S MEN GO FORWARD

Movement So Long Delayed is On in Full Force, and the Islanders Are Pressing the Russians Very Hard.

[Special by Scripps-McLellan.]
London, July 26.—Mukden correspondents of the Central News-wires that it is reported two Russian generals and 250 officers and men were killed in the Russian reverse at Tashikiao July 24th.

At London.
London, July 26.—A New Chwang correspondent of Lloyd's wires this morning that fifty Japanese have entered the town which yesterday was evacuated by the Russians. The French flag is flying on all Russian buildings. The Japanese advance guard is expected to reach town today.

At New Chwang.
New Chwang, July 26.—After almost twenty-four hours of desperate fighting the Russians have been driven from Tashikiao. They are now retreating in fairly good order on Hail Chong, hotly pursued by the Japanese, who are trying to turn the retreating armies about, but so far they have been unsuccessful.

It is estimated that 30,000 Russians and more than 100,000 Japanese have been engaged in the fighting, and the losses are estimated at not less than 5,000 men on each side.

Another column of Japanese is fighting its way from Si Muehng to Hail Chong.

Fall of New Chwang.
Kin Chau Fu, July 25.—The Russians are reported in full retreat on Liao Yang. New Chwang has been evacuated and the stores there destroyed. The Japanese defeated the Russian forces to the west of Tashikiao with loss and later administered a smashing defeat to the Russian outposts to the east of that point. It is said here tonight that the Russians have withdrawn all their forces from Tashikiao and are retreating on Liao Yang. From the north, too, comes reports of Japanese successes. Kuroki's columns are now at the very gates of Liao Yang, and have fought several hot skirmishes within a few miles of the city.

The railroad for several miles is in the hands of the Japanese, who are strongly fortifying positions to the north and east of Liao Yang. Japanese transports containing, it is said, a full division of troops are reported off Yinkow. It is believed here these men will be landed tomorrow and push forward up the Liao river to a point, where they can catch Kuropatkin on the right flank. Chinese bandits are active and are giving the Japanese much assistance.

Newchwang, July 26.—In a bloody fourteen hours' battle the Russians were completely routed Sunday all along their line, from Ta Tehu Kiao to Hail Chong, falling back on the former point. They will undoubtedly be forced to retreat to Liaoyang, and must evacuate Newchwang at once. The losses on both sides were very heavy.

The battle began at 6 o'clock in the morning, the Russians resuming the attack on the Japanese position on the heights east of Ta Tehu Kiao.

TAGGART NAMED COMMITTEE HEAD

Indiana Man Will Conduct the Democratic National Campaign from Chicago.

[Special by Scripps-McLellan.]
New York, July 26.—At the meeting of the Democratic committee this afternoon Taggart of Indiana was elected chairman; Urey Woodson of Kentucky was chosen secretary; and John L. Marti of St. Louis sergeant at arms.

DEATH REVEALS HIS IDENTITY

Young Miner Proves to Be Son of Wealthy Colorado Family.

North Freedom, Wis., July 26.—Howard Montgomery, 19 years old, was killed at the Illinois mine here by falling between the shaft timbers and the skip. His death revealed that, although working as an ordinary miner, he was the son of Col. F. Montgomery, a well-known lawyer of Denver and a member of the Colorado legislature. His brother is a millionaire living at Idaho Springs, Colo.

HALEY GIPE REVEALS PLAN TO ROB STARBUCK

Maintaining His Own Innocence He Discloses Plot to Rob House on Night of the Murder.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.—Haley Gipe, arrested ten days ago as a suspect in the murder of Mrs. William Starbuck and her baby near Greensboro, made a confession to Sheriff Christopher and Prosecuting Attorney Jackson Monday which, if true, may fasten the crime on a man already in jail, whose name he gave, and another man, whose name Gipe would not divulge.

Gipe says the man now in jail came to him with a plan to rob the Starbuck home on the night the murder occurred. The man told him, he says, that he knew of money Starbuck had from the sale of hogs and that on the night in question Mrs. Starbuck and the baby would be alone. The plan was to frighten Mrs. Starbuck into telling where the money was. There was only thought of robbery, Gipe says. Gipe contends that he did not enter into the scheme.

San Francisco, Cal., July 26.—Mrs. Cordella Bodkin appeared in court Monday to answer to the charge of murdering Mrs. Ida Henrietta Deane of Dover, Del. The case was set for trial on Aug. 15.

CLEVER WOMAN PLACES BULL IN STALL OF COW

Man Who Had Been Milking the Latter Without Permission Receives an Impression.

Trenton, N. J., July 26.—Dominic Musanno, a native of Italy, is in a hospital here suffering from two fractured ribs, three broken fingers, a sprained ankle, and twenty-one bruises, because he tried to milk Mrs. Mary Cooley's prize cow too often.

Mrs. Cooley conducts a country boarding house, and keeps several Jersey cows. For several weeks the summer boarders have been shy on milk, the fresh prize cow in the first stall of the stable having failed to produce as formerly.

"I'll soon find out if a milk thief is around," said Mrs. Cooley. She then changed the stall of the Jersey cow and put a vicious Jersey bull in the stall next to the door.

Early in the morning there was a great commotion at the cow shed. The bull was bellowing loudly and snorting and kicking viciously. The air was made blue with a foreign tongue by a string of oaths in the Italian tongue. A sound as of a tin milk pail being banged against the side of a building, and an occasional thumping, as if a human being was being slammed about, was heard.

The summer boarders rushed to the cow shed, and there they saw Dominic Musanno with the milk pail mixing it up with the hind feet of the Jersey bull. The bull was angry.

Musanno confessed that he had been milking the Jersey cow in the first stall.

RUN IN AN AUTO SAVES BANK

President Carries $35,000 Forty Miles to Succor Institution.

Columbus, O., July 26.—With $35,000 in gold C. P. Cole, president of the Lancaster bank, made a dash in an automobile from Columbus to Lancaster, arriving in time to prevent the bank from closing its doors in the face of a run. Hearing by telephone of the trouble Mr. Cole secured the money from the Ohio National bank in Columbus, but missed his train. To avoid the danger of delay he hired an automobile and with L. F. Klesewetter, cashier of the local bank, made the run of forty miles in the fast time of one hour and twenty-eight minutes.

SANTO DOMINGO ENJOYS PEACE

Admiral Rige, Who Arrives at Port to Rico, Says Trouble Ends.

San Juan, Porto Rico, July 26.—Rear Admiral Sigsbee's squadron, the flagship Newark and the gunboats Topeka and Scorpion, have arrived from Santo Domingo, where they had escorted Minister Dawson after a tour of the principal cities of the republic. Admiral Sigsbee says that the revolution in Santo Domingo has been completely suppressed and that an extended period of peace is likely.

Takes Poison at Grave.

Evansville, Ind., July 26.—Adam Lehr, a furniture dealer, aged 55, took a dose of poison on the grave of his 15-year-old daughter in St. Joseph cemetery and is dying.

HENRY C. DAVIS TO WED WIDOW

REVIVES ROMANCE OF YOUTH

Young Brakeman Was Rejected by Parents of Sweetheart, Yet After Lapce of Half-Century Millionaire Will Join First Love.

[Special by Scripps-McLellan.]
Bedford Springs, Pa., July 26.—Secretary Robb, speaking for Davis the democratic candidate for vice president, denies absolutely the story in this morning's papers that Davis is shortly to wed Mrs. Reynolds of Shepherdstown, W. Virginia.

Washington, July 26.—While the name of Henry C. Davis is still warm upon the lips of every Democratic voter in the nation, it is announced that he has decided to take unto himself a bride. Thus will the octogenarian nominee for vice president celebrate his nomination as Judge Parker's running mate. The news came from Shepherdstown, W. Va., where lives the woman upon whom Senator Davis has set his choice. She is Mrs. Katherine Reynolds, widow of Dr. John Reynolds of Shepherdstown. Only a bare 11 years is she Senator Davis' junior. Her age is 70 years.

The wedding will take place in the fall, whether before or after the presidential election has not yet been finally decided.

Meet at Country Dance.
There is an interesting story back of the approaching wedding. Many years ago when Henry G. Davis was a brakeman on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, he became a suitor for the hand of Miss Catherine Cushman, whose family was one of the most prominent in Washington county, Maryland. Miss Cushman was a pronounced beauty and was the acknowledged belle in the section in which she lived. Her family being an aristocratic one, she became the leader in the exclusive set, and at all social gatherings Miss Cushman's society was sought after by the young gallants of Maryland and West Virginia.

She and young Davis met for the first time at a dance at a country house, and frequently thereafter he became her escort. The friendship thus began speedily ripened into love.

Parents Raise Objections.
Davis proposed and the young woman was willing, but her parents could not reconcile themselves to the idea of their beautiful and accomplished daughter marrying a poor railroad brakeman, and the young man was sent on his way with a broken heart.

Young Davis disappeared, to rise rapidly in the railroad service, until he became the richest and most powerful citizen in his state, while Miss Cushman became the bride of Dr. John Reynolds, a prominent physician of Shepherdstown, her old and first sweetheart, also in the course of time taking unto himself a life partner in a distant part of the state.

It was not until many years afterward that the two came together again, one as a widower and the other as a widow. The old spark rekindled into a flame, with the result that there will be a notable wedding at the quaint old farm at Shepherdstown some time, the gossipers say, during the month of October.

NOVEL PLAN TO COMBAT PREJUDICE TO NEGROES

Afro-American Realty Company Proposed to House White Tenants and Blacks in Flat Buildings.

New York, July 26.—To combat race prejudice against tenants in white districts, the Afro-American Realty company has started an aggressive campaign.

Negro real estate operators and investors organized the company recently with capital stock of $500,000. They have subscribed for $100,000.

In a package prospectus, printed in chocolate tints with brown covers, embellished with a typical negro head, the remaining $400,000 is offered to negro capitalists at $10 a share.

"The idea that negroes must be confined to certain localities can be done away with," says the prospectus. "So can the idea that it is not practical to put colored and white tenants together in the same house. Race prejudice is a luxury. Like all other luxuries, it can be made very expensive. With a cash capital of $500,000 the Afro-American Realty company can turn race prejudice into dollars and cents."

The company owns four five-story flats valued at $125,000 and holds ten other flat houses under five-year leases and it has opened luxurious offices in the hotel building, 115 Broadway. James C. Thomas is president.

PRIZE MONEY FOR MANILA HERO

Admiral Dewey and His Men to Be Rewarded After Six Years.

Washington, July 26.—After a legal battle of several years Admiral Dewey and his men who fought the battle of Manila are to receive their prize money for the capture of the Don Juan de Austria and other Spanish property. In the supreme court of the District of Columbia Justice Gould signed an order confirming the report of the auditor in the case, overruling all exceptions filed by either side to the report. The amount of the property captured finally was fixed at $1,657,356, a sum considerably in excess of what the government claimed to be due. Half of the amount will be paid to the captors, while the remainder, as provided by law, will be placed to the credit of the navy pension fund.

HAZING ENDED AT WEST POINT

Board of Visitors Reports Practice Has Been Abolished at Academy.

Washington, July 26.—According to the report of the board of visitors to the United States Military academy at West Point, the practice of hazing new students no longer exists. The present state of affairs has the support of the cadets themselves, and thus gives assurance of permanency. In conclusion the report says the institution today stands at the head of the great military schools of the world.

BIG STRIKE A QUESTION YET

No Early Settlement Is Looked For by the Packers or Strikers at Present.

RIOTS NEAR THE YARDS TODAY

Negro Strike Breakers Attacked the Strikers, And Are Driven Back by the Police—Few Arrests Are Made.

[Special by Scripps-McLellan.]
Chicago, Ill., July 26.—There is no prospect of an early settlement in the packing house strike. Both sides are preparing for a long struggle. Not more than five thousand went to work at the yards this morning.

Twenty-seven thousand butchers and allied trades are now out. The teamsters have not officially struck, but are awaiting the order today. Many of them are out on their own account. Ten negro strike breakers were arrested early this morning. As unionists were entering the yards a crowd of negroes drew pistols and shot into the crowd of unionists. The police charged them and arrests followed. Aside from broken heads none were injured. Three hundred strike breakers arrived at the yards this morning and went to work.

Strikers Are Out

At eleven-thirty the packers issued a statement declaring all negotiations with the strike butchers and craftsmen was closed and would not be reopened. Following this the strikers established picket lines and all the indications now point to a war in earnest. It is evident the strikers have abandoned all hope of a peaceful settlement. Pickets stopped and turned back three wagons for the Armour company. Teamsters have not been ordered on sympathetic strike. The packers have used up all the surplus cattle in the yards and hereafter the cattle will be shipped direct to them instead of to the commission men.

Attack Drivers

Five bread wagons filled with bread for the strike breakers were turned back by the union pickets. The police were unable to escort them into the yards.

The general strike at the stock yards is an accomplished fact. More than 7,500 mechanics and laborers in the various branches of the packing industry laid down their tools and walked out yesterday in sympathy with the butcher workmen.

Added to the number previously on strike, the total number now idle in Packingtown is close to 30,000 men and women. Conservative men fear that the strike will not stop even now, but may extend to involve the thousands of workmen only indirectly connected with the packing industry. Railroad men, such as switchmen and freight handlers, are restive and are ready to refuse to handle the products of the packers if they are but given the word.

"It may result in another A. R. U. movement unless it is settled within a few days," said a prominent labor official.

The general strike begun yesterday forenoon, while the peace conference proposed by the teamsters was still in session. The leaders believed that a fight was inevitable and they were anxious that it should be short and decisive. The peace conference brought no results, and those trades that waited for a few hours joined the others that had gone out earlier in the day.

Steam Plants Are Crippled.

The climax came last night at 6 o'clock, when the firemen and engineers refused to go to work on the night shifts. Those who could not be seen last night were given to 6 o'clock this morning to answer the strike order. The great steam plants that furnish power to run the immense industry were crippled.

The firemen had waited throughout the day for any ray of hope that might come to prevent a sympathetic strike, but at 6 o'clock Joseph W. Morton gave the firemen the word not to report for work. They were anxiously awaiting the order, and at once went to their homes.

The packers will have to grant them an eight hour day before they return to work, or break up all the unions in the stock yards.

The first to start the strike yesterday were the live stock handlers, an important factor in the stock yards. At 10 o'clock they quit in a body. They are members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen, but had not engaged in the strike until yesterday, as they are not employed directly by the packers, but by the Union Stock Yard and Transit company.

Hamper the Packers.

They have no grievances of their own, but were called out to hamper the packers in receiving consignments of live stock.

Before leaving the premises Manager E. G. Leonard addressed the men.

"I want you boys to go to your homes," he said, "and keep out of trouble. Every man will be taken back as soon as this trouble is over, although I shall have to employ some nonunion men in the meantime to feed and water stock.

"But you can all depend on being reinstated if you behave yourselves while the fight is on."

The Packing-House Teamsters' union, the only organization that has not been called out, held a meeting last night, and for a time the men threatened to break away from the control of the leaders and go out on strike in spite of orders to the contrary. It was finally decided to telegraph to the headquarters of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters at Indianapolis, and ask the executive board for permission to go out with the other trades. The teamsters' joint council will hold its regular meeting to-night, when it is expected that some of the national officers will be present and the case will be laid before them.

Teamsters Are Uneasy.

A special meeting of the Packing-House Teamsters' Union will be held at midnight to-night after the joint council adjourns to take final action. The teamsters are determined that they will not remain at work with all the other unionists in the stock yards on strike, even if they have to strike in defiance of their officers and constitution.

It was but a short time after the live stock handlers went out yesterday when it was discovered that they had hit the independent packers a serious blow as well as the firms against which the fight is waged. A committee of the independent packers waited on President Donnelly and told him they would have to close up unless they could get stock to be slaughtered.

Aids Independent Packers.
Donnelly said that his orders had been misunderstood, and that there was no intention of inconveniencing the independent packers. He gave orders for the drivers to return to work and drive live stock to all independent plants.

The commission men will receive the consignments and take them from the cars as best they can. Those intended for the independent packers will be driven to their destination by union drivers.

Others of the unions were reached at the noon hour and ordered out by the business agents, but it took most of the afternoon to reach all trades. The officers declared that the summons was promptly obeyed as soon as it reached the men.

Men Reject Offer of Free Board.

The car workers had the greatest number of men in the yards and their strike began at noon. By 3 o'clock every man was out, according to the statement of St. J. Morgan, the union business agent. At the Swift plant the foreman went around among the men and offered to pay them $3.50 a day and board them free if they would remain at work.

The wages now paid the men without board run from $1.75 to $2.75 a day, but despite the tempting offer not a man accepted, say the officers.

ARGUMENT OF OGDEN FEATHERS

Proved Unavailing, and Ordinance Was Passed by Unanimous Vote of City Council.

Work of the City Council—Interpretation received from city attorney of the statute passed by the legislature of 1903 with reference to the amount of money a city is authorized to pay for the bond of its treasurer; likewise opinions that only the clear proceeds of the dog licenses should be credited to the school fund, and that the assessors should be paid for their service on the board of review.

Investigation of the standing of the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. of Scranton, Pa., ordered.

Question of liability of city for public ambulance service referred to city attorney.

Ordinance to re-enact sections 2, 3, and 4 (subsequently repealed) of ordinance of October 3, 1887, granting rights and privileges to the Street Railway Co. advanced to its third reading and placed on passage. Measures passed last night compel said Street Ry. Co. to pay for laying of macadam and pavement between its tracks and keeping same in repair.

Plans for the new fire station accepted and fire and water committee authorized to call for bids.

P. H. Marskie appointed as dog catcher and bonds of dog-catcher and pound-master fixed at $100 each.

Winged words, armed with barbs, sang through the council chambers last evening. The Street Ry. Co. in evidence pleading, low and sweet, charmed the fathers for a time with its modest little tale. Then, almost imperceptibly, the music began to lose its simplicity and sweetness and harsh and bitter things appeared to lurk behind the seeming fragrance, and struggle for expression. Suddenly it was no longer a song, but a challenge. Something hissed and sputtered. Silence fell, but lasted only for a moment. There was a scraping and rumbling sound of field pieces being dragged into position, and trained for a reply. Then the city fathers spoke.

Street Railway Ordinance

Alderman Jackson called attention to the fact that at the last meeting of the council the judiciary committee had invited all members to be present at a meeting to be held for the purpose of hearing the arguments of a representative of the Street Railway Co. relating to a certain ordinance that had been referred to committee after its first and second readings last winter. This ordinance was to repeal sections 1, 2, and 3 of an ordinance to amend an ordinance granting certain rights and privileges to the Street Railway Co. He moved that it be given its third reading and placed on passage. The motion carried and the ordinance was read by the city clerk. It restored three sections of the original franchise which compels the Street Railway Co. to pave or macadamize its roadway between the rails to correspond with the streets and keep the same in repair; to provide plankings at street crossings; use rails of the flat pattern, etc.

Opinion of Judge Sale

Alderman Jackson stated that all of the alderman had not responded to the invitation to be present at the committee meeting. For their benefit he would say that a legal objection had been offered by attorney for the company on the ground that the city had not the power to pass such an ordinance. Judge Sale, on the other hand, thought it could be done and the city attorney thought there was a fair chance. The judiciary committee was in favor of trying the experiment. Another objection offered was the straitened financial condition of the company which might make it impossible to run the cars. If it were passed. This would of course be disadvantageous to the city but it was unjust to property holders to be compelled to pay for constructing and maintaining that portion of the streets used by the company. The committee was willing to take the chances on the cars not running.

Alderman Matheson stated that only five aldermen had been present at the meeting of the judiciary committee and moved that unanimous consent be given the attorney for the road to address the council at this time. Alderman Jackson demurred, saying that he would like to see one else has been invited to speak here on the other side of the question. The motion prevailed and Ogdan H. Feathers addressed the meeting. He said that he would like to suggest at the beginning that if Judge Sale had an opinion that this proposed move was valid, it would have been moved while to have it in writing coupled with a statement of the authorities on which it was based. Also, if the city attorney thought there was a fair chance of undoing the

MARTHA BACK AT THE DAILY TOIL

Big Interurban Car Returns From the Repair Shop, Ready for Service.

Martha has returned home. After an absence of more than six months she was brought back this morning, riding in state on a flat car. The car by this name will be unloaded and fitted for business, and will soon be seen once more on the interurban line between Janesville and Rockford.

Martha is the car that was badly smashed up last January at the sliding near this city. It had run off the track, and a bad wheel was being watched when the car was struck by a Northwestern car of coal drawn by a switch engine. The vestibule and main part of the car for a distance of ten feet was entirely wrecked. The car had to be sent to the factory, where it has been practically rebuilt. It looks as good as new now, and officials of the company say that it ought to be for the expense of putting it in shape to run again was very heavy.

NEW HOT WAVE IS NEXT PROMISED

High Temperature in the West Is Moving Towards Janesville at a Fast Rate.

The local weather forecasters predict a probable return of the hot spell of a week ago. The center of the cool zone passed over the city yesterday, moving eastward. At present the severest part of the hot spell is being felt on the Pacific coast. The highest temperature recorded yesterday was at Portland, Ore., where the thermometer reached 88 degrees. It will be several days before the warm weather can be felt here.

ROSEBUD LANDS DRAWN THURSDAY

Homesteaders on the Big Reservation Are Anxiously Waiting for the Decision of the Drawing.

On next Thursday, when the drawing for the prizes in Uncle Sam's big land lottery will begin, the eyes of 106,000 land seekers who registered for lands in the Rosebud reservation will be turned toward Chamberlain. One thousand names after which the balance of the names in the box will be drawn as rapidly as possible, completing the work on the third day.

As each envelope is drawn from the box the clerk will keep a record of the name and order of drawing. This will be continued until a sufficient number of names have been drawn out of the box to equal the number of claims in the Rosebud reservation subject to entry. On the fourth day the drawing will be continued but without restriction until every envelope is drawn from the box.

Plan of the Drawing. The drawing in effect merely takes all the names enrolled and places them in numerical order, and the names so placed in order will be called at the rate of 100 per day to make filings on the lands at Bonesteel until all the lands are disposed of, filings beginning on Aug. 8.

While the numbers arranged at the drawing will be as extensive as the number registered, there will be no particular value attached to any number over about 2,500, as by the time that number is reached the land in all probability will be exhausted, unless the holders of earlier numbers should fall in very large proportions to respond to their names when called for filing.

All Quiet at Bonesteel

Each person will be notified by postal card at the address given by him when he registered of the drawing of his name and of the time he must present his application to make entry. Persons whose names are drawn thereby secure the right to make selection of the lands, and homestead entry therefor in the order of the drawing, beginning with No. 1.

Quiet prevails in Bonesteel. Most of the crowds who were there for registration have left the city, many for their homes and others for Chamberlain. Officers Stanbrough and Harrison, shot Friday night in a fight with toughs, are out of danger, and will recover.

HELLO GIRLS ARE AN ABUSED LOT

THIS IS THE OPINION OF AN EASTERN PAPER.

NO PATIENCE IS USED AT ALL

Answer at Once or They Are Not Attending to Their Duty—A Few Facts Noted.

It is so easy to abuse the telephone operator—to vent spite and bitterness on the unseen, unknown "central," too busy or too well-trained to "sass back"—that this uncalculated and discourteous practice is sometimes indulged in by persons who would be thoroughly ashamed of their conduct, if only they realized how grave is the discourtesy that they are guilty of, says the New York Commercial.

Bad habits are not easily eradicated. But this habit of unjustly "sassing central" is one that any reasonable persons can readily cure with the simple remedy of observing the second hands on a watch or clock and counting the number of seconds that elapse from the time the reply is lifted off the hook until "central" answers the signal. This remedy is an old and well-tried one, familiar to all telephone officials, but the record will prove surprising to many who experiment for the first time.

Occasionally the telephone receiver is scarcely placed to the ear before the query comes: "Number?" On the other hand, now and then a delay 30 or even 40 seconds may occur before "central" answers. But if the seconds are carefully registered each time the telephone is used during one week it will soon be seen that "central" answers all calls within an average period of from seven to ten seconds each.

And once he or she learns the caller's need the trained "central" supplies the desired local connection in less than three seconds. That is, "central" connects the circuit of the calling subscriber through the switchboard to the circuit of the called subscriber and rings the bell on the latter's telephone, all in from two to three seconds. Of course if the called subscriber is slow in answering the ring at his telephone door the consequent delay should not be charged to "central."

Are customers waited on more promptly in any other line of business? Count the number of minutes—not seconds—that the watch records while waiting to be served in restaurant or in store, or standing on the corner waiting for the street car, or at the station possessing your soul in patience while awaiting the delayed suburban express. And what about the time lost in big department stores, so often referred to by the jokesmiths? Certainly, rapid service may justly be expected in an establishment where complete segregation of each line of goods to its own section is systematically followed out, as in the modern department store. Still, how rarely these expectations are realized!

Even the butcher and the baker, the grocer and the clothier keep customers waiting minutes rather than seconds before asking: "What can I do for you?" Yet how rarely a customer thinks of "sassing" a store clerk for being dilatory or negligent or stupid, even though the indifference or the stupidity of the arrogance shown is exasperating! Why this distinction? Is it because the clerk is a living entity whose resentment will be emphatic and visible, while "central" is unseen, in a sense intangible, and because her or his reproach can be cut off by hanging up the receiver?

"Central" easily takes care of five or six or seven customers a minute. Did butcher or baker or grocer ever equal one-sixth so good a record? During the rush hour "central" has easily supplied 360 connections in 60 minutes, and under stress of intense public excitement "central" has a record of answering 100 calls per minute for several minutes in succession, or at the rate of 900 an hour.

And "central," facing a complex functional machine must serve customers with alacrity over copper threads that are often swayed hither and thither in the passing breeze, or robbed of current by the wet trees; and must select out the proper switch or jack from among thousands in a multiple board, and each of these thousands of exits measure only a half-inch in diameter. In one board where more than 3,000 exits face each operator, the diameter is reduced to three eighths of an inch. Yet out of these 3,000 switches "central" must quickly select the one desired by the calling subscriber, while the butcher and the grocer have the solid counter, the reliable scales, the neatly wrapped can or box to shorten and simplify the serving of customers.

Again, the snow and the sleet, the lightning's flash all serve to hinder and handicap "central" efforts to expedite the service. Then the storekeeper can utilize the stormy day to his advantage by wrapping and packing the goods ready to be called for when the sun shines. But there is nothing that "central" can store up, save it be the bitter memory of brutal remarks. Neither connections nor conversations can be wrapped up or side-tracked and handed out in moments of leisure. Whatever is called for must be delivered on the instant, if possible, or a lost connection is recorded. Is it mainly to "sass" so busy and so willing a public servant?

CITY IS TO PAY ASSESSORS FOR BOARD OF REVIEW WORK

City Attorney Holds That They Are Entitled to Draw Their Pay.

With regard to the question as to whether or not the assessors are entitled to pay for their services on the board of review City Attorney Burpee has rendered an opinion that they are not entitled to compensation as ex-officio members of that body but that by reason of the compensation fixed for them as assessors they are entitled to receive their compensation for every day they labor, the same as in making the assessment rolls. That is to say, their work as assessors does not cease when they lay the rolls before the board of review. The report of the finance committee which was subsequently adopted included the items of $152.50 for each of the assessors for their year's work. These amounts included the $25.00 per day for thirteen days' service on the board.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workman.

Boot and shoe workers of Patulana, Cal., have formed a union.

There is a strike for the free Sunday among the Wisconsin paper mills.

Boston, Mass., union lathers have gone on strike against the open shop.

John Mitchell is mentioned as the democratic candidate for congress from Peoria, Ill., district.

At a meeting at Dusseldorf, the Union of German Iron and Steel Makers resolved to form an employers' union.

The strike of diamond-cutters at Antwerp has ended, after six months' struggle. The men have agreed to accept the terms suggested by M. Terrivagne, the union's deputy.

Officials of the Union Pacific railroad have completed a settlement of hours and wages with the telegraph operators of the system, and a new schedule has been signed.

It is reported that the striking garment workers in New York have so crippled the manufacturers that several of them are seeking a settlement with their employees on the "union shop" basis.

The London, England, cab strike has ended in a success for the men, subject to a final arrangement of terms. The real grievance is the excessive number of cabs in the streets.

PERFORMING HORSES.

Nearly 100 Executing Difficult Feats at the Same Time in Three Rings.

The trained animal exhibition with the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth this season is simply amazing. When this feature was presented in New York "The Daily Sun" said it was "the sublime culmination of harmony." Thoroughbred horses are seen engaged in the performance of difficult feats, tricks and maneuvers. This very wonderful performance was thought by many to be impossible, but by perseverance, aided by novel methods, perfect success has resulted, so that now for the first time can be seen this astounding equine display. This is the most ambitious as well as the most meritorious and successful effort in the line of trained animals exhibition ever seen. It is, however, but one of many extraordinary attractions of this show, for there are in addition an exceedingly interesting equestrian tournament, with high-jumping and long-distance leaping horses, and other daring feats of horsemanship. 1,000 people are employed, among whom are 300 performers. Twenty champion male and female bareback riders—the best of all countries—are seen in strikingly novel and dangerous stunts. All the best general performers have been secured for the races, acrobatic, and gymnastic displays, feats of strength, skill, and endurance, which are exhibited in three rings, on three stages, the race track, and in the arena. Two menageries, three herds of elephants, a herd of giraffes, camels, and cages of rare carnivorous beasts, are additional features also, while the list of other sights and wonders is simply overwhelming. They will all be here on Aug. 4, with the street parade in the morning at 9 a. m., showing the forty-horse team and hundreds of other objects.

RADICAL IN THE EXTREME NOW IS

The Talked of Democratic State Platform—Many Socialistic Moves.

Wisconsin democrats just now are giving considerable attention to the platform to be adopted at the state convention next month. The indications are that this feature of the convention will cause a brisk fight. It also appears that the democrats will be quite radical in their plank. A 2-cent railroad fare and franchise tax are two features that are being urged vigorously. Two years ago the democrats catered to the stalwart wing of the republicans, hoping to get votes in that quarter. They got the votes, but not enough of them to do any good. Now the leaders are warning the party that anything like a bid to the republicans on either side will mean that they will lose votes. If the democrats went to win it is said they must have something positive and aggressive. Former Governor George W. Peck is the most prominent man mentioned for the head of the state ticket. The rank and file want him. A democrat from up the state said, in speaking of the gubernatorial nomination: "If they don't give us Peck they will find we cannot deliver the goods."

VERDICT OF THE PARTY

From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by that convention, June 25, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected said John C. Spooner, J. V. Quarles, J. W. Eshcock and Emil Baensch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin WAS THE REGULAR CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

THE VOTE OF NEW YORK.

It is a remarkable fact that only twice in the history of this country have the two leading candidates for president in any campaign been nominated from the same state, says the Wall Street Journal. The first time that this occurred was in 1860, when Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois were nominated for president. That fact was due to the prominence which these two great men had attained by reason of the long joint debate which they had conducted two years before in their campaign in Illinois for the United States Senate. The second time in which the two candidates for president have been taken from the same state is in 1904, both Theodore Roosevelt and Judge Parker being of New York.

This time the selection of two New Yorkers to head the two party tickets is the result largely of the importance of New York in the coming election. Its vote in the electoral college is large, being 39 in a total vote of 476, that with the two parties so nearly equal in strength so far as the number of electoral votes which they can surely command outside of New York, that this state becomes in a large measure pivotal. While predictions as to the result of the presidential election of this year are of little value, and while the Wall Street Journal certainly does not intend to enter into any idle conjectures on the subject, it is important to know just where the contest promises to be the hardest and where the decisive vote may be expected. The following facts are therefore, of value:

The total electoral votes of this year will be 476, making 239 votes necessary to a choice. The democratic party is sure of thirteen southern states having a total vote of 151. The republican party is sure of thirteen northern states having a total vote of 148. There are nineteen more or less doubtful states having a total vote of 177. The democrats need 85 votes in order to win, and the republicans need 91.

This on the surface is more favorable to the democratic party than to the republicans, but an examination of the doubtful states shows that the advantage is really with the republican party at least to this extent, that the democrats in order to win must carry the state of New York, and the republicans in order to win, may do so without New York, although the vote of this state would be very important to them. In fact, it may be said that the successful candidate, whether he be Roosevelt or Parker, will probably be he who has carried the state of New York.

Of the nineteen doubtful states, the democrats may be said to have the largest chance of carrying seven, namely, Colorado, Idaho, Maryland, Delaware, Montana, Nevada and West Virginia, having a total of 32 votes. Maryland and West Virginia were both carried by McKinley, but may now be carried by the democrats both on account of the renewed prominence of the race issue and of the fact that the vice-presidential candidate on the democratic ticket is a powerful citizen of West Virginia and very intimate with Senator Gorman, the democratic leader in Maryland. Delaware was also carried by McKinley, but on account of the republican faction quarrel, it may now return to the democratic party. Granting all of these states to the democrats, they still lack 59 votes of having the number necessary to election. This shows how essential the 39 votes of the state of New York are to them.

Of the doubtful states, five may be fairly considered to be republican. These are Kansas, Nebraska, Utah, Wyoming and Wisconsin. Kansas and Nebraska were carried by McKinley, and there is no reason now to suppose that they will desert the republican column. Wisconsin has indeed a severe republican quarrel on hand, but that is the only reason for putting it into a doubtful column at all. Granting these five states to the republicans, they still lack 54 votes to gain success. There are, however, four other doubtful states in which the chances for republican success are more favorable than the democratic outlook. These are Illinois, Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut. The total vote of these four states is 61, and if they can be carried by the republican ticket, they would elect Roosevelt, without the vote of New York. The candidate for vice-president on the republican ticket comes from Indiana, which strengthens the party's chances in that state. The republican difficulties in Illinois are counteracted by the democratic difficulties in the same state. All four states have been twice carried by McKinley and have polled large republican majorities in state elections. Connecticut and New Jersey, however, are so closely connected with New York in public opinion that if New York was carried by either one of the parties by a large vote, it is not improbable that the same sentiment producing that result would carry Connecticut and New Jersey for the same candidate.

New York is, therefore, the main battlefield of the election, and with both candidates for president taken from this state, the contest will be waged here more fiercely and with more uncertainty as regard results than elsewhere in the United States. New York is a very doubtful state, although it has been carried by the republicans in the last two presidential elections, and in every gubernatorial election since 1894. The largest of the state, casting a total vote of 1,517,000 in the last presidential election, the two parties are normally so evenly divided that the elections in this state are generally decided one way or another by a comparatively small body of independent voters.

It is true that at times large pluralities have been cast in New York by one party or the other. In 1882, for instance, Mr. Cleveland as candidate for governor carried the state by nearly 200,000 plurality. In 1894 Mr. Morton carried the state against so strong a man as ex-Senator Hill, by 155,000 plurality, while McKinley in 1896 carried it by 268,000 plurality and in 1900 by 112,000. But these results were exceptional and due to extraordinary conditions. As a matter of fact the two parties in New York are so evenly divided that a little falling off in the republican vote above the Bronx or a little falling off in the democratic vote in Greater New York would lose the election for either of these parties. In order to show the political closeness of the state of New York, it is only necessary to consider the votes cast in the six presidential elections from 1872 to 1892. These were as follows:

	Democratic	Republican
1872	387,221	410,745
1876	522,043	489,225
1880	534,511	555,544
1884	563,048	562,001
1888	635,757	648,759
1892	654,865	609,350
Total	3,197,445	3,305,624

Combining the democratic vote and the republican vote in these six presidential elections, and the extraordinary result is presented of a total republican vote only 8,179 larger than the total democratic vote and this in an aggregate vote of 6,600,000. The same result is shown, substantially, by the record of the gubernatorial elections held in New York since 1872 in other than the presidential years, as follows:

	Democratic	Republican
1871	416,391	366,074
1875	453,356	418,567
1882	535,318	542,464
1885	501,465	490,331
1891	582,893	534,566
1894	517,710	673,818
1898	643,921	661,707
1902	656,317	665,150
Total	4,307,401	4,153,067

Combining the democratic and the republican vote in these eight state elections, and it appears that the democratic plurality in a total vote of nearly 8,500,000 was only 154,334. If we add together the democratic and republican votes in the last eight presidential elections and in the last eight gubernatorial elections that were held in other years than the presidential contests the result shows a republican plurality of 246,970, an average of 15,430 for each of the sixteen election. It is a singular circumstance that Theodore Roosevelt's plurality in the state election of 1898 was 17,786, a trifle in excess of this average. It is fair to say that the strength of the two parties in this state is fairly represented by the votes for governor in 1898 and in 1902. With this closeness in the two party votes, it is easy to understand how the result of next November's election will be determined by a comparatively small number of independent voters. In reaching an opinion as to the vote of the state, four factors must be considered; first, how many sound money democrats who voted for McKinley will now vote for Parker; second, how many indignant Bryanites who voted for him in 1896 and 1900 will now stay at home on election day refusing to vote for Parker; third, how many dissatisfied republicans will now vote for the democratic candidate; and just come of age and whose attitude fourth, how the new voters who have towards the two parties in entering the contest cannot be well ascertained, will cast their ballots.

PRESS COMMENT

Chicago Record-Herald: A temporary hotel is to be erected at Esopus, which is also to have a new railway station. No movement has as yet been started to furnish Esopus with a Pike.

Chicago Chronicle: The culminating horror is preparing for the unfortunate Russians. Mr. Kipling is going to fire a poem at them.

Des Moines Register and Leader: Judge Parker has been invited to speak in Chicago, August 20th. Because a man can write a telegram, is not saying he can make a speech.

Appleton Crescent: The democrats of Wisconsin might go farther and do worse but could make no mistake by calling Mr. Peck from his present privacy to head the democratic ticket.

Green Bay - Gazette: Oshkosh no doubt gets the next state dental convention by reason of the strength of her pull, a quality quickly recognized and highly appreciated by the members of the society.

La Crosse Chronicle: When the republican party thinks of what it has done for "Little Bob" and "Little Bob" thinks of the same thing, both ought to be ashamed!

Madison Democrat: Boss Wall goes to Europe for rest. He needs it after his prodigious success in throwing the Wisconsin delegation into the soup at St. Louis.

Waupun Leader: Until the Bouck Wadleigh scrap is settled the Oshkosh papers will have no lack of copy, though it is too hot for even for pipe-dreaming.

Chicago Inter Ocean: The nature of the news from Bonesteel hardly agrees with the argument that frontier times have passed.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: General Miles is peeping from behind the footlights to convey the altogether unnecessary explanation of why he couldn't swallow the prohibition bait.

Superior Telegram: An eastern man is just stepping into a nice fortune easily. He has invented an appliance with which the sandwich man can slice the ham thinner than ever.

Raehe Journal: As the days go on it is becoming clearer and clearer that upon the decision of the supreme court depends thousands of republican votes. When men like Senator Stout say they will abide by this, it means a decisive something.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Dr. Elias C. Swallow has formally accepted the nomination for president on the prohibition ticket. It is not believed, however, that either of the other candidates will suffer any serious handicap by the doctor's early start.

MANY CHANGES AT FAIR GROUNDS

NEW IMPROVEMENTS PROMISE BETTER ACCOMMODATIONS.

DRAIN SYSTEM IS COMPLETE

Roadways Have Been Rebuilt, Cement Sidewalks Laid, and Water Supply Enlarged.

People who attend the state fair this year will not have to stand in puddles of water or mud, even though the weather should be rainy, as was the case last year in many places on the fair grounds, for a drainage system has been completed which will keep the grounds dry and also will be used as a sewage system for buildings. Last year water stood so deep on the grounds that thirty tons of baled hay had to be spread over the worst places and planks laid on top of it in order to make it comfortable for the public. The new drainage system cost about $1,100 and consists of from three to ten inch drain tiles.

Roads in Fine Condition
The roadways about the fair grounds also have been greatly improved this summer, and by Sept. 5, when the fair opens, they will be in the best conditions in the history of the fair organization. From Cotera avenue to the grandstand a new macadam road has been built. Cluder roads are also being made just south of the stables at the north end of the park, extending in front of the sheep and hog pens, and on each side of these roads ditches have been dug so they will be high and dry and as clean as possible.

Cement walks will be laid between every building on the grounds and the work probably will be started this week or next. The walks will be twelve feet wide and there will be about 300 yards in all, the longest stretch being nearly 100 yards in length between the grand stand and the Art building.

To Improve Water Supply
The water supply at the grounds also is to be improved, both for fire protection and other uses. Hydrants have been placed at every corner of the grounds and a reel hose cart, with 600 feet of hose, has been purchased, and is now being kept in the Agricultural building until the fair opens. The system has been tested and proven effective. The installation of the improvement will make it unnecessary to have as much protection from the Milwaukee city fire department as heretofore. Water works will be soon put in to supply the stables in the southwest part of the grounds, and a faucet will be placed at each stable. Heretofore all water for these stables has been supplied by pumps from two wells.

A woman's dressing and toilet room, near the main office, will be finished within the next two or three days. The roof of the Art building is being repaired, and all of the stable roofs have been put in good shape. Painters also are at work on the Art building.

Barn Space Inadequate
R. P. Phillips, custodian of the grounds, says it probably will be necessary to build more barns or rent space for the extra large number of horses which will be entered for the races this year. The present barns have stall room for 150 horses, but it is expected that that number will be greatly exceeded and the list probably will be the largest in the history of the fair.

An innovation in racing in Milwaukee will be introduced this year. Races are to be held at night and with the aid of a powerful searchlight, stationed on the grandstand, the spectators will be able to follow the horses about the track while all surroundings are obscured in comparative darkness. This will be an experiment as well as a novelty, and will undoubtedly attract large crowds. For the first time the fair is to be run at night throughout the week and the grounds and buildings will be illuminated brilliantly by arc and incandescent lights. The contrast for wiring the grounds and installing the lights probably will be let next Saturday.

Ice-Cream Social
The ice cream social on Mrs. Inman's lawn, 57 Prospect avenue, will be held Wednesday evening.

CURRENT NEWS NOTES.

New Launch: E. S. Williams has a new gasoline launch on the river, the "Sister." The new boat is longer and narrower than the one launched earlier this season of the same name, and those who saw it Sunday declare it the speediest craft of the kind on Rock river. Mr. Williams is making no boasts, however, and enthusiasts are waiting a brush that will determine the merits of various claims of speed.

To Play Beloit: The "Red Sox" will play Beloit Eagles here next Sunday. Both teams have met defeat at the hands of the crack second warders and are evenly matched. A. O. H. Picnic: The Ancient Order of Oddfellows have decided upon August 12 as the date for their annual picnic at Yost's park. It is expected that eight hundred from Jamesville and a similar number from Beloit will participate.

More Secure Licenses: The appointment of the dog catcher has already had an appreciable effect. About sixteen tags were purchased this morning. The total is now 418.

Irish Hospital for Consumptives. All the local authorities in the county of Cork, Ireland, have united to establish a sanatorium for consumptives on the banks of the Lee, several miles above the city of Cork.

Antwerp Harbor Traffic. Vessels of eighty-five steamship lines enter the harbor of Antwerp regularly.

Bishop's "Feeling" Remark. One Sunday morning the bishop of Southwell, England, began his sermon with these words: "I feel a feeling which I feel you will feel."

CLEAR PROCEEDS OF THE DOG LICENSES

And Not the Gross Proceeds Are To Go to the School Fund—Wants Park To Be Commodious.

All monies received for licenses, except those issued for the vending of spirituous liquors, are paid into the school fund under the provisions of the city charter. The question arose as to whether the treasurer was to draw on some other fund of the city for the expenses incident to enforcing the dog license ordinance. City Attorney Burpee has decided that the clear proceeds of this source of revenue, not the gross proceeds, are to be paid into the school fund. When the dog catcher was appointed last evening Alderman Murray inquired anxiously whether or not he was to provide a pound and fitting appointments for the reception and care of the canines. Alderman Grove answered that he understood that the new pound was to be on Main street in one of the buildings which had been used for a repair shop.

THE WEATHER

BUSY SESSION OF THE COUNCIL

MANY MATTERS DISPOSED OF AT MEETING LAST NIGHT.

WILL TRADE THE FIREBELL

Chief Engineer Authorized to Undertake New Musical Venture—In Spectators Appointed—Petitions

It of the aldermen were in their seats when the council meeting was called to order last evening. The finance committee presented its usual report of bills, including items for $115 to Harry Haggart for auditing the treasurer's books and $60 to Thomas Morley for special police service and the report was adopted. The bid of F. A. Taylor for furnishing coal for the city hall—75 tons of large egg at $8.45, fifteen tons of small egg at $8.45, and fifty tons of pen coal at $6.45 was the lowest of the three submitted and was accepted. The mayor was authorized to borrow $2,000 and place the same to the credit of the school fund. On the motion to refer the city treasurer's bond to the judiciary committee Aldermen Matheson, Merritt, Schwartz and Sheridan voted in the negative.

For Ambulance Service
Two bills filed by Mr. Russell for ambulance service were presented by Alderman Matheson. He had no doubt but that the bills were reasonable and thought that commendable public spirit had been shown in caring for the cases in question, but wished the city attorney to determine the liability of the city for ambulance and hospital service. The judiciary committee asked for more time to consider the offer of the Russell ambulance for public service. Alderman Schwartz of the fire and water committee reported favorably on the plans for the new fire station submitted by Architect Kemp and moved that they be adopted and that the committee be instructed to advertise for bids. Motion carried.

Street Improvements
A petition to have certain obstructions on Shelton street removed was referred to the city engineer. Further time was granted the committee to consider a petition of real estate owners on that part of Prospect avenue formerly known as Harmony street to have the established width of that thoroughfare fixed at 34 feet. The same action was taken regarding petitions from owners of property on Prospect avenue, on Cornelia street from Prospect to Glen, and on Cornelia street, against the laying of sewers on those thoroughfares.

Miscellaneous Matters
Thomas Madden was granted a license to retail liquor at 219 West Milwaukee street. The communication from A. A. Blunk, secretary of the Federated Trades' Council, asking that the privilege of the streets be granted to that body on Labor day, September 5, was not deemed expedient and the matter was re-referred to the committee with directions to report more accurately as to what was agreed to move it at its own expense whenever the city should deem necessary. John Watson was granted permission to complete the curbing which he has commenced in front of his residence.

Orders Introduced
Repair work on Center avenue from Western avenue to the bridge was ordered. The city engineer was instructed to file a side-walk grade for the west side of Jackson street from Oak street to Western avenue. The chief engineer was granted permission to trade the fire-bell in the west side engine-house at an expense not to exceed $12. The Central Methodist church was granted permission to construct a four foot cement walk in front of its property on South Bluff street. J. W. Sale was likewise given permission to construct a four-and-a-half foot walk in front of his property. He had declared his intention of building a five foot walk if it could be done without destroying trees. Owners of real estate located on each side of North Hickory street and on Oak lawn between Glen and Benton streets, were granted permission to build four-foot walks. Property owners on Wisconsin street from South Third to Oakland avenue were granted permission to grade at their own expense and the city engineer was instructed to furnish plans.

Inspectors for Work
The street assessment committee was authorized to employ competent inspectors to superintend the work on the sewers. The highway committee was instructed to take the same steps for securing an inspector of the bridge construction. Alderman Matheson stated that whereas the city hall was insured to the amount of $20,000, the contents were unprotected. This sum was deemed excessive by the chief engineer and he had called attention to the fact that the contents of his office alone were worth $2,000. On a motion the city clerk was instructed to transfer $3,000 from the insurance on the building to the contents. Alderman Matheson asked the council to be thinking about his smoke ordinance which he will introduce in September. He was granted leave of absence from the council meetings in August, as he will not be in the city during that month.

GOLF LINKS ARE TRANSFORMED NOW

Sinnissippi Golf Club Grounds the Scenic of the Greatest Pike Ever Piked by Anyone.

When one walks down the Pike at the Sinnissippi Golf club's links this evening they will not realize that Jamesville has as many freaks as are there exhibited. Everything from the languid beauty of the Turkish harem to the ravishing japs of the far east, the wild dog eating igorot, and the sailors of the battleships at anchor at the end of the line.

The German song and song dancers, the freaks of the Highly Moral Show, the weird gypsies, and the high diver are all Jamesville people out for a good time. It is a creation which once seen will never be forgotten and once created can never be duplicated. Once in a lifetime can a Midway or a Pike be made a success and one look at the golf grounds assures everyone that this is the one time.

The rain early this morning put a damper on the enthusiasm of some, but before the clouds had cleared away the "roundabouts," the boss canvasman, the chandler man and the managers of the different shows were hard at work repairing the little damage done. By noon two hundred people were doing yocemen's service and when the first visitors began to arrive this afternoon everything was in readiness to greet them.

One look down the long street on either side of which was located the different museums and the visitor is appalled at the amount of work that has been done. Huge banners depicting the shows on the inside, with able and leather lugged bankers are at every entrance. Inside the gentlemanly lecturer explains the great wonders to be seen. Weird music comes from the mosque like structure of the Turkish palace. The beating of tom toms and the languid airs of the beanties who rest on priceless divans outside this structure attracts the attention of everyone. But just across the road is the Japanese tea garden. Trailing vines and paper flowers have transformed a little tent into a bower of beauty. Then here is the German theatre and the sound of the merry German tunes and the chop chop of the wooden shoes are enticing. A little further down are the igorotroes hungry for their dinner of roasted dog. Next door are the Russian sailors waiting for Admiral Fogo to come and blow them up. The two-headed woman, the petrified woman and the horse with his head where his tail ought to be, cane racks, candy booths, lemonade stands, nigger baby racks and peanut stands and squatter vendors are everywhere. Every few minutes some hand starts up a rollocking two step and the wind blows the words of the lecturer in the Highly Moral side show to the audience outside. "This, ladies and gentlemen, is the great and only" and the rest is lost only to be heard from the inside. It is a great show and one which is enjoyed by everyone.

America Rebekah Social and Beneficial club will meet in regular monthly session at East Side Odd Fellows' hall, Wednesday afternoon and evening.

DRILL PRIZE WON BY CHAS. CANIFF

In the Competition at the Modern Woodmen Hall Last Evening.

In the prize drill of the M. W. A. Foresters' team at West Side Odd Fellows' hall last evening, the handsome gold watch chain offered as a prize by S. M. Fisher was awarded Charles Caniff. Mr. Caniff, experienced soldier in the vicinity of the drill work. George Tanberg, H. M. Walker and F. H. Frances acted as judges and the presentation speech was made by J. J. Cunningham. The Royal Neighbors had a pleasant surprise in store for the Woodmen and after light refreshments were served the floor was cleared and an informal dance was held.

FORMED CIVIL LAST EVENING

Elect New Officers, and Plans for the Future Were Also Discussed.

At a meeting held last evening to formulate plans for the organization of a military company in this city the plans did not fall through as stated in the morning issue. The meeting was well attended; some fifty young men were present and enthusiastically their willingness to do all in their power to help the good work along. Several G. A. R. men were also present and made brief addresses. The new organization started out as a civil organization by electing officers last evening as follows: President, H. N. Lincoln; secretary, F. C. Duller; treasurer, George Crossman. It is the plan of the newly organized company to give a series of social dancing parties to raise enough money to put them on a good footing so as to be accepted into the state militia at some future date. The social feature of the organization will be the main feature at present. Much interest was shown by the members at last evening's session and there is no good reason why this company will not succeed. Meetings will be held Monday evenings at G. A. R. hall.

Your Pulse.

Feel It Once a Week To See In What Condition Your Heart Is.

If your pulse beats too fast, or too slow; too strong or too weak; or too irregular; 'tis a sign of a weak heart. Refresh it with Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

The healthy pulse of a grown person should average 70 to 80 beats a minute. The beats should be regular pulsations—not too weak to be easily felt, not so strong as to be felt without some pressure of the skin.

You may not feel particularly sick, but any day, if your heart is weak, you are liable to some sudden seizure, breast-pain, fainting, weak or smothering sleep, a sign of real danger.

Do not wait for such a moment to come, but treat your weakened heart and circulation with a safe and efficient, modern, scientific Specific remedy, such as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has proved itself to be.

It is a wonderful heart and blood tonic and will make the blood rich and the heart strong. It will do you good by strengthening and building up the nervous system and circulation.

"For years I was troubled with pains around my heart, shortness of breath, palpitation and fluttering of the heart, occasioned by the least exertion, such as fast walking, lifting, ascending a flight of steps, excitement or emotion. I have used only a few bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, am entirely free from all of those symptoms, and believe myself completely cured."

Plymouth and McCormick Binder Twine..

D. M. BARLASS SELLS IT

Farmers who have used Plymouth or McCormick Twine know how smooth it runs and how far it goes. It costs a little more per pound, but it is a saving in the end. Three kinds in stock—

Plymouth Standard,
McCormick Standard,
McCormick Pure Manila

We assert again—there is no better twine on the market at our low price. See us about your twine. We will show you a big difference between the above mentioned twines and the cheap stuff that is being sold in Rock County at only a cent or two less. Place an order at once—'tis wise.

Thresher Supplies...

All kinds of Oils,
Belts, Belt Dressing,
Belt Laces,
Hard Oil, Chains, Etc.
